

On Thursday, May 1, 2003, the New York Chapter of ASIS International will host its 13th Annual Seminar and Trade Show, "Security 2003," at the Jacob Javits Convention Center, in Manhattan. The seminar, exhibition, reception, and prize drawings are free of charge. Online registrations can be placed before April 20. Registrations will also be accepted at the door, beginning at 7:00am.

The Office of the National Counterintelligence (NCIX) is pleased to participate again at this event. NCIX will have a booth and will be distributing counterintelligence and security awareness materials. Mr. Norman R. Runk, Jr., NCIX Chief of Training, Outreach and Liaison Branches has been invited to participate as a panelist during the seminar. This is one of the largest single-day events in the security industry with more than 3,000 industry security professionals expected to attend and with as many as 200 exhibitors expected in the Convention Hall.

The ribbon-cutting ceremony will take place at 8:00am. The day's events will include sessions on homeland security, developing strategic relationships, and other issues, as well as the chapter's Annual "Person of the Year" Luncheon. Tickets to the luncheon are $75 each and tables of ten can be reserved in advance.

Registration information can be obtained by linking to: <http://www.security-zone.com/asisnyc/register.htm>; or link to: <http://www.security-zone.com/asisnyc> and click on register now.

For additional information, direct your email comments to: asisnyctradeshows@excite.com.

The NCIX point of contact is Paul Vick who can be reached at 703-874-8639 or email at: paulwv@ncix.gov.